SENTENCED TO DIE.-Through the politeness of His Excellency the Attorne; General we have re-ceived the remarks and sentence of the Court to the two cases, tried at the late term of the Court, for homicide, namely: That of Kelithansiwi Davis, and John Brown. The papers reached us too late for publication but shall appear next week.

THE MEASLES.-We regret to be compelled to chronicle the spread of the measles among the native population of Honolulu. The disease is said to have reached alarming proportions. Up to this date however there are very few fatal cases, and it is hoped that the disease will not prove very fatal. Too much care cannot be taken on the part of those having the custody of young children, under pre-

We made a complete inspection of the ship on Tuesday the 22d inst. and found everything in apple-ple order, and also found Capt. THE VOLCANO, -A correspondent writes us from the crater of Kilanes, that it has been quite active for accrain weeks past, occasionally indulging visi-tors with grand displays. One of these occurred on Monday afternoon and night of the 14th inst., when a stream of lava flowed from the great south lake, and continued for a distance of one and a half miles, or half the length of the crater. Two parties of visitors arrived there the same day—one from Hilo, the other from Kan. Among them were Miss of visitors arrived there the same day-one from Hilo, the other from Kau. Among them were Miss Goulding of Mills fleminary, Miss Rouse of Makawao, Dr. Hyde, Rev. A. O. Forbes, Wm. E. Rowell, and Messrs. Adams and Jones of Punahou. In the district of Kau there have been frequent refreshing showers in July-nearly every other day, reminding the residents of olden times when, as in Hilo, it was better to have water-proofs handy. The roads were not muddy, nor were they dusty—the traveling being excellent and cool under a cloudy sky.

Mas. L. Weaven's Pictures.—Last week we spoke of the elegant oil paintings brought here by the artist, Mrs. L. Weaver of San Francisco, but as we had not seen the pictures when we penned that notice we could only speak of them in a general way. Since that time we have had the opportunity of inspecting these productions at the store of Mr. Thus. G. Thrum, where they are displayed for the bonefit of the public, and we are free to say, that in the main, they are really very line. While we do not believe these paintings of the gifted lady are equal to those of Henry Inman, William Sydney Mount, Thomas Cole. A. B. Durand Kensett, or George L. Brown, who were all American masters of their art, we can truthfully assert that many of the pictures of the number now on exhibition at Mr. Thrum's possess high merit. We have not space to go into particulars at present, as we would lake to do, while speaking of Mrs. Weaver's paintings. Suffice it to say that, any of them would adorn the walls of our best houses, and many of them will compare favorably for coloring and fine artistic touch with flows of American artists, who have attained a high niche in the roll of first-class painters. These pictures, 28 in number, are for sale, and we advise those of our citizens, who have the means and the taste, 40 secure the best of them, now that they have opportunity to do So. Next to MRS. L. WEAVER'S PICTURES.-Last week we means and the taste, to secure the best of them, now that they have opportunity to do So. Next to good brooks, there is no apecies of personal property so pleasing and valuable as good pictures, both of which, like good wine, become more valuable as they become venerable by age. MARRIAGE CEREMONY .- On Tuesday evening the MARHIAGE CEREMONY.—On Tuesday evening the 22d inst, at the residence of the bride's uncie, M. Louisson, E.q., of Honoldu, Mr. J. Hymno of thi mercantile firm of Hymna Brothers, of this city, was married to Miss B. Frankel, neice of Mr. and Mrs. I Elman, Mr. Raickind, Father Ridge, Mr. Louisson, in the presence of a very large company of invited guests, composing the etite of Louisson, Esq., of Honolulu, Mr. J. Hyman of thi company of invited guests, composing the etile of Honolois. Everything that the te could suggest or money procure, was furnished for the pleasure of the company. Mr. Louisson's spacious and elegant mansion was arranged with consummate taste and liberality, and everything connected with it gotten ap in the best of style. Outside the main building

At precisely 8 o'clock, the hour fixed, the bride and bridegroom filed into the parior, where the guests were assembled, and Mr. Peck, a Hebrew and firiend of the parties, who was deputized by the ish Rabbi at Sas Francisco, to perform the marrieg ceremony according to the Hebrew formation which he did in the Hebrew tongue by reading from a book. The ceremony was short and solemnly performed by Mr. Peck, who concluded by p 0 suncing them man and wite, according to

This ended the ceremon pliments; this done, the guests repaired to the on, where they regaled the new eves upon a most phonus repair, and all went happy as a marriage bell. There is one circumstance connected with the marriage ceremony above described, which we wish particularly to note, because of its novely, as well as its historicad significance, it is this: This marriage ceremony, conducted in accordance with the Hebrew ritual and formula as handed down from Moses, the succient law-giver, is the first case of the kind that was ever thus celebrated on these Islands kind that was ever thus celebrated on these Islands. This case possesses peculiar significance from the fact that Mr. Peck, before officiating as the substitute of the Rabbi, of San Francisco, took the precention to procure from the Interior Department of the Hawaiian Kingdom, a fleense under Hawaiian law, permitting and legalizing the ceremon; and thus was secured not only the sanctity of the Jewish religion, but the civil law of this Kingdom at the same time, which rendered the solumnization of the marriage good and legal in a double sense, and thus it will form a precedent to be followed in similar cases for all time. The Hawaiian Band, under the direction of Mr. Berger, was present, and occupied a pavilion outside the waiian Band, under the direction of Mr. Berger, was present, and occupied a pavilion outside the main building, erected for their especial accommodation, from which they discoursed sweet music. We must not neglect to mention that in the side room from the parlor were spread the elegant and costly presents to the happy pair, which consisted of an almost endless variety of silverware and articles of vertu, which testified the estimation in which both bride and bridegroom are held in this community. Everything p used off in the most pleasant and happy manner, and all who were preent will long remember the first Jewish weiding that ever took place on the Inwaitan Lianda.

Washington, Jaiy 3.—All statements telegraphed from Washington last night that the President intends to convene Congress to make appropriations for Marshal's fees, before the regular December session, or that he now contimplates calling an extra cession for any purpose whatever, political or otherwise, are entirely without foundation. The decision not to call Congress upon its adjournment last Tuesday was reached by the President and his Cabinet after full deliberation and for various reasons then stated in these dispatches; one of them being the absolute certainty already apparent that Congress would continue to refuse to modify the conditions it had attached to the Marshal appropriation, no matter how often it might be convened in extra session. Chaircan Atkins and other Democratic members of the House Committee on Appropriations had also Chairman Atkins and other Democratic members of the House Committee on Appropriations had also declared and still say that if Marshals go forward and perform the ordinary daties of their office there will be no difficulty in securing the prompt passage of a Deficiency bill for their relief next December. This question was really absurd and unworthy of serious consideration; but has been given an effectual quietus to day by the official letter from Attorney General Devens.

The Bulletin thinks that if a ship railroad would be as cheap and as efficient as Captain Eads claims, bis project asserts itself as the peculiarly American scheme. If European capital, that so readily comes at the beck of De Lesseps' were to be withheld from the project, there are men of wealth enough in this country who would support such a triump of American engineering and such an aid to the commerce of the country; and even were we threatened with two trans-Isthmus routes we should have little to fear, if ours was the cheapest, and were completed fifteen ours was the cheapest, and were completed fifteen to twenty years in advance of its competitor.

A New Life Destroyer. - A new warlike appli A New Life Destroyer.—A new warlike appli-unce is about to be introduced into the British ser-vice, and will probably be known as the "hand tor-pedo." Like the grenades of half a century ago, they are intended to be thrown by the hand into the enemy's boats, or over parapets and stockases, but instead of being a shell exploded by a fuse, as the grenades were, they mill consist entirely of gun cot-ton, pulped or compressed into a cake or ball of three or four pounds weight. A long cord is attached to each charge, the other end of which is connected by a kind of pictol held by the operator. The torpedo is pitched into the required position, when a touch on the trigger detenates the gun cotton, and an ex-plosion follows. Such an experiment has shown to be sufficient to shatter in atoms a five ton block of gran ite. One such charge, skillfully applied, would annihilate a boat's crew, and, in the hands of daring men, might work great destruction by being thrown into large ships.

tween six and seven o'clock, destroying houses, barns, etc.

Ten miles northeast of here two young men named Kass were killed. They saw the storm coming, and ran into a barn for shelter, when the wind struck the building with terrific force, completely demolishing it and crushing them to death in the ruins. Parties who saw the storm from a distance say it was terrific to hook at. It could be distinctly seen from Lemars, and at first the storm-cloud presented the appearance of an hour-glass, after which it assumed the shape of a straight column, and then seemed to break into fragments and drift away. It seemed to move slowly, and was in sight about thirty minutes.

The wind blew strong in Sionx City, but no damage worth mentioning was done.
